Do you enjoy archeology and ancient history? How long has it been since you went to the University of Pennsylvania Museum? A trip to the Penn Museum with guided docent tours will enlighten and delight you. Our group will tour both the newly opened Native North American Gallery, and the Museum Highlights Tour with an actual Greek archeologist docent. Our catered boxed lunch is included in the cost, and it will be enjoyed in a reserved space inside the museum between the two tours. Our final hour will be for independent museum browsing, and we will receive a 15% off discount in the Museum Shop. Much standing and walking will be involved, so put on your support hose and walking shoes to embark on this adventure!
